Security and Liability

Brookhaven city police will be present during festival hours and on patrol overnight. The Brookhaven-Lincoln County Chamber of Commerce, Ole Brook Festival Committee, and the City of Brookhaven do not guarantee vendors against theft, loss or mysterious disappearance or damage of any type. All vendors should consult their insurance carrier for proper theft coverage as well as liability coverage.

Sales Tax

Each vendor, regardless of corporate or non-profit status, who sets up a booth is required by the Mississippi State Sales Tax Commission to complete a tax form on the day of the Ole Brook Festival. The Brookhaven-Lincoln County Chamber of Commerce, Ole Brook Festival Committee and the City of Brookhaven will not be responsible for anyone who does not comply with state law. If the vendor does not return the form to the Chamber on October 5, 2019 the vendor's name, address and detailed information will be given to the Mississippi State Tax Commission. A drop box for the vendors to deposit their tax form and taxes will be located inside the Chamber of Commerce until 5pm on the day of the event. Per the Mississippi State Tax Commission, failure to comply with this requirement will prevent a vendor from entering another show in the State of Mississippi.
